● Syria: Between 1 and 31 May, IOM provided over 7,400 displaced persons and returnees in Rural Damascus with family water kits. Moreover, IOM's livelihood project is ongoing, targeting IDP population in four camps in Idlib with livelihood assistance and establishment of market areas.

● Turkey: During the month of Ramadan, IOM continues to provide hot meals to vulnerable refugees and host community members through three food kitchens in Gaziantep run by the Governorate. In Saniurfa and Hatay, IOM's mobile outreach teams conducted 23 awareness-raising sessions for refugees and host communities on their rights and access to services.

● Lebanon: On 19 May, IOM in collaboration with UNHCR, UNICEF and the Ministry of Public Health conducted an awareness session on detection and referral of tuberculosis for outreach volunteers working with NGOs in Arsal.

● Iraq: Between 1 and 31 May, over 140 individuals (Syrian refugees, IDPs and host communities) participated in basic greenhouse skills and pesticide safety training sessions conducted by IOM in Erbil, Sulaymaniyah and Dohuk.

● Jordan: Between 7 and 18 May, IOM held trainings on Humanitarian Border Management and Counter-Trafficking for Jordanian border authorities. Additionally, IOM provided over 7,600 students with transportation assistance to schools in Azraq camp.

Livelihood Support and Community Stabilization of Vulnerable Communities and Households

During the reporting period, IOM continued to support the IDP population in four camps in Idleb with livelihood assistance and establishment of market areas. There are four locations identified for the market areas; work has been completed in three of the four sites providing 75 shops. Work in the last site is ongoing and is foreseen to be finalized within June 2017.

Furthermore, on 25 May, IOM conducted an activity day to promote social cohesion between the displaced and host communities in the project site of the Pioneer Camp and surrounding localities (Ein Al-Zarka district, Tartous) reaching 1,469 individuals through sporting and musical events in the community centre and child friendly space facilities.

WASH Assistance

Between 1 and 31 May, IOM provided 7,428 displaced persons and returnees in Rural Damascus with 1,248 family water kits (containing 10 water purification tablets, 2 buckets, 1 jerry can, 10 soap bars, information pamphlet) enabling them to have safe potable water at home.

In addition, under the Transitional Housing project in Tartous, IOM distributed 21 devices (including turbidity meter, conductivity meter, PH meter, spectrophotometer, cellulose nitrate filter, etc.) and reagents to seven laboratories to control potable water quality servicing 1,700,000 people, and to strengthen the solid waste management for 50,000 people in Tartous city.

Furthermore, IOM provided maintenance works for four heavy duty machines, and provided a brand new tractor with a trailer to the municipality of Ein Al-Zarka to improve the solid waste removal capacity servicing 46,000 host and displaced communities.

Food Assistance

Since 2015, IOM has been supporting the food kitchen run by the governorate in three different locations in Gaziantep. From January 2017, hot meals have been provided on a daily basis through these food kitchens to more than 4,500 vulnerable Syrian, Iraqi, Afghan and Iranian refugees, as well as host community members living outside camps. During the month of Ramadan, starting from late May up until late June, the number of beneficiaries is expected to increase to over 5,000.

Social Support Services

The mobile outreach teams in Hatay and Sanliurfa aim at disseminating information, raising awareness and providing psychosocial support to refugees in rural areas where no other agencies are operational.

During the month of May, IOM's mobile outreach teams conducted 23 awareness-raising sessions for refugees and host communities for over 310 individuals in Bozova and Belen districts of Sanliurfa and Hatay. The sessions aimed to raise awareness regarding mental health and psychosocial services, refugee rights, responsibilities and legal framework. The team was able to provide answers to questions concerning marriage documents and procedures, criteria of the Emergency Social Safety Net (ESSN), phone numbers of state services, family reunification criteria and process, Temporary Protection IDs (TP ID), disability and health reports, and Turkish language courses for adults.

The sessions revealed some of the refugees' concerns such as bullying of children attending national schools. During sessions with the host community, misinformation and misperception was observed with regard to Syrian refugees in Turkey. The teams will follow up on these issues in the upcoming months.

Through Their Eyes

For many refugee youth, a so-called normal childhood is a distant dream. Hamdo, an 11-year-old Syrian boy, remembers a happy life in Idleb with a mother who devoted herself to her children. After a bomb destroyed their house, the entire family fled to Turkey. There they lived for a few years, trying to rebuild their life when tragedy struck again; Hamdo's mother contracted breast cancer. The family did what they could to make her comfortable, but their house in Turkey was in need of repairs. Three years later, it claimed her life and left Hamdo and his teenage brothers heartbroken.

Hamdo knew his mother would want the best for him. He dedicated himself to his studies and has mastered the Turkish language – one of the biggest challenges for Syrians living in Turkey. Despite the sadness in his life, Hamdo still has a bright and wonderful smile for the world.

IOM has been supporting this family since the start of the year with multipurpose cash and in May provided a top-up to provide support during the month of Ramadan.

As part of the series of trainings done with the collaboration of UNHCR, UNICEF and the Ministry of Public Health (MoPH), a session on the detection and referral of cases having/suspected having tuberculosis was given by IOM medical team on 19 May. The sessions was attended by 15 outreach volunteers (11 women and 4 men) working with NGOs in Aarsal.

Mental Health and Psychosocial Support

During the reporting period, psychosocial activities were implemented by Dari Centre staff and the IOM outreach team. Activities delivered inside the centre aimed to train, enhance, and develop the volunteers' skills in topics related to: women and child protection, and gender-based violence including domestic violence. During site visits to the Syrian refugees' shelters, several sessions on protecting women from violence and early marriage, the negative impacts of early marriage, and protecting children from violence were delivered. A total of 935 individuals participated in these activities. Furthermore, recreational, artistic mediation, and athletic activities were conducted for children in the South and the Bekaa; a total of 840 children participated.

Common Services (Community Technology Access Centres)

Refugees continue to access the internet and technology resources through IOM's five CTA centres in the camps in Dohuk (Domiz camp) and Erbil (Basirma, Darashakran, Kawergosik, and Qushtapa camps). Each CTA centre consists of two caravans (one for males and another for females). Between 1 and 31 May, 2,578 beneficiaries (1,144 females and 1,434 males) benefited from CTA services in Erbil, and 252 beneficiaries (94 females and 158 males) in Dohuk.

Livelihood Opportunities for Syrian refugees, IDPs and host communities

During the reporting period, a total of 142 individuals (46 women and 96 men) attended basic greenhouse skills and pesticide safety training sessions conducted by IOM in Erbil, Sulaymaniyah and Dohuk. The training sessions were held in recently rehabilitated Ministry of Agriculture and Water Resources' (MoAWR) training centres across the three governorates. The skills obtained from these trainings will enable Syrian refugees to learn basic agriculture skills and be able to produce crops that help their sustainable livelihoods.

Moreover, in May, an assessment mission was conducted in all sites across the three governorates by an agriculture expert to make recommendations for new training activities and additional crops that can be produced at each site based on the quality of soil and the market demand in each governorate.

Within the framework of the IOM – MoAWR MoU, IOM is providing livelihood opportunities for Syrian refugees, IDPs and host communities through a Cash-for-Work (CfW) programme at MoAWR's nurseries floristries. While IOM provides these beneficiaries with daily wages and tools and uniforms, the Ministry is committed to train them in skills relevant to these tasks. In May, 45 male beneficiaries in Dohuk, Erbil and Sulaymaniyah participated in the CfW programme.

School Transportation in Azraq Camp

During the month of May, 7,671 of students were transported on a daily basis to schools in Azraq camp. The objective of the school transportation project is to improve access to formal education for refugees within Azraq camp; both students and Syrian assistant teachers are benefitting from the transportation service. As temperatures in Jordan begin to rise, this school transportation service becomes more necessary in order to ensure that children are transported safely to school. Throughout the project, IOM continues to conduct ad hoc registration and replacement of damaged cards for students who are interested in accessing this service.

IOM also engages Syrian volunteer escorts through a Cash-for-Work (CfW) programme who help to ensure that children are transported in a safe manner to and from school, mitigating protection risks. Through this project, up to 100 Syrian volunteer escorts will benefit from the CfW intervention, providing them with a much needed livelihood opportunity.

Trainings on Humanitarian Border Management and Counter-Trafficking for Border Authorities

Two five-day trainings on Humanitarian Border Management (HBM) and Counter Trafficking (CT) were implemented in May; the first was held from 7 to 11 May for 24 border authorities (BA) and the second was held from 14 to 18 May for 11 BAs. The objective of the trainings was to increase the knowledge of the BAs on HBM and CT.

The first three days focused on the Universal Declaration of Human Rights; international legal framework; and conventions related to the status and protection of refugees. The fourth day was delivered by three BAs who had received a previous ToT with IOM on HBM, focusing on humanitarian assistance provided to Syrian refugees and humanitarian principles during interactions with Syrian refugees.

On the fifth day, the last two sessions of the training were delivered by a CT trainer from the Jordanian Counter Trafficking Unit. The sessions focused on the definition of human trafficking, the different types of exploitations that refugees might be exposed to, and the difference between trafficking and smuggling.
